AN inquest was held on the 3d at Kearney on the body of T. M. Brown who was shot and killed by young Albert H. Duke in his father's bank house, mention of which is made elsewhere in this issue. The jury in the case rendered the following verdict: The deceased came to his death from a pistol shot from the hands of Albert H. Duke, while defending the property of the bank. We deem the act one of self defense and justification.

A PARTY of young ladies and gentlemen attended a husking bee at the farm of Mrs. Scoles, in the vicinity of Kearney, and in the evening had a jolly dance at the house of James O'Kane. Mrs. Scoles realized a ton of coal, a sack of flour, and all her corn husked. The Kearney Press says of this bee that when young people combine benevolence with pleasure they certainly ought to be commended, and we hereby pass them along the line for that purpose.

FROM the London correspondent of the Chicago Journal we learn that a political league is to be formed in that country to educate the people for a great change in their responsibilities and duties, even at the price of great organic political changes. What these organic changes may imply in this league we know not, but we have a right to guess that it means more liberty for the people and a leaning towards a republican form of government.

CHARLES VIAL, indicted for the willful murder of W. B. Armstrong, had his trial at Lincoln last week. The means used to take the life of the murdered was mixing poison with liquor which he drank and it killed him. The evidence being mostly circumstantial his counsel contended that he was not guilty.

THE Standard publishes a sensational dispatch from Vienna to the effect that Russia's military organizations are so vast that nobody can doubt she is bent upon further conquest. The only question appears to be whether she will wait till spring or commence the war before that time. A camp of 60,000 men is forming at Kischensoff to replace the troops who crossed the Balkans southward.

A dispatch from Pera says the British Vice-Consul at Bourgas has been seriously assaulted by Russian officers, and the Russians have refused to allow the British man-of-war to go to Bourgas.

THE Chicago Times states that two bad signs are reported from England—the stoppage or reduction to short time of 60 per cent. of the looms and spindles in Lancashire and Cheshire, and the strike of the agricultural laborers of Kent and Sussex. The depression in the cotton industry is growing worse and worse, while the condition of English agriculture, as shown by the recently-published returns of the British board of trade, is by no means favorable. Large areas of arable land have lately been given over to pasture. The farm laborers of England are not fed upon the farms, as in this country, but buy their food from day to day with their miserable weekly wages, and a strike at this season of the year must necessarily leave their families in a needy condition for the winter.

MUCH feeling exists in the British Ministry on account of the Russian agents in this country, who are purchasing ships and material of war, and have in an official way manifested this feeling. Similar complaint was made during the trouble between Russia and Turkey, but the position which our government assumed then, and maintains now, is that no overt act having been committed against treaty stipulations, there was no occasion for interference. It was stated last week at Washington that the English government seems to think that it is the duty of our government to discriminate in her interest against Russia. England should remember the days of rebellion when the rebels were in actual conflict with the Government how they sympathized and aided the enemy, and be assured that Mr. Evans will strictly comply with the obligations of this Government, and will see that they are observed in accordance with existing treaties.

CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS. CITY HALL, COLUMBUS, NEB., Saturday, Nov. 2d, 78. At regular meeting of City Council were present his honor the Mayor, Chas. A. Speice, Councilmen Baker, Burgess, Kavanaugh, Morse, North and Pohl, and J. J. Rieky, City Marshal. Minutes were read and approved. Petitions and bonds for liquor licenses were presented by Paul Hoppen and Wm. Bucher. Referred to proper committee. A petition was presented bearing one hundred and twelve signatures, many of the largest tax-payers in the city, asking the Council to appoint two night watchmen. On motion, it was placed on file. John C. McMahon, the party who circulated and presented the petition asking for the appointment of night watchmen, filed an application to be appointed as such officer. Transcripts in cases of Thomas Farrell and Michael Lyons, showing that both parties had been found guilty of violating the provisions of ordinance No. 69 by disposing of liquor on Sunday. Were read and placed on file. The City Marshal was instructed to notify Mr. Thomas Farrell and Michael Lyons to appear at next meeting of the Council and show cause why their licenses should not be revoked. The Marshal's monthly report was read and placed on file. Councilman North moved to reconsider the motion passed at last session, adopting the resolution "declaring the office of Night Police vacant from Nov. 1st, 78, until next general election. Motion to reconsider, carried. After striking off preamble the resolution was adopted as follows: Resolved, That the office of Night Police be declared vacant. Councilman Kavanaugh offered the following resolution and moved its adoption: Resolved, by the Mayor and Councilmen of the city of Columbus, that in response to the petition, presented at this evening, one good and suitable man be appointed night watch. Adopted. The following resolution offered by North was adopted, to wit: Resolved, by the Mayor and Councilmen of the city of Columbus, that the Clerk be and is hereby instructed to draw a warrant on the Court House fund in favor of J. O. Shannon for the sum of eighty-four dollars and seventy cents ($84.70) in full, pay for sidewalks built adjacent to lots belonging to the city in blocks "B" and "C," formerly Columbus Square. Legal opinion in post-office case material link in the chain of circumstances which had happened in this case, should work the acquittal of Vial. The case was sent to the jury and in due time they returned a verdict of "not guilty."

Our Boone County Letter.

ALBION, NEB., NOV. 1, 78. EDITOR JOURNAL: We are once more having the privilege of enjoying fine weather, which the farmers are improving in fall plowing and other work necessary to be done this fall.

We are sorry to chronicle the loss of property by prairie fires that have raged around and in our midst for the past two weeks. Barnes and Randall, who live above this place, had all their grain, hay and hogs consumed by the fire, and barely escaped having their houses consumed by the devouring element. Many other farmers throughout the county suffered by the total loss of all their hay. The fires did more damage north of us in Antelope and Holt counties.

Several threshing machines have been at work all the fall in this county, but you cannot see but little impression made as yet on the grain stacks to be seen on every hand. Thousands of bushels of wheat will be exported from the county this winter. Better prices for grain would develop our county and place the farmer on a solid footing once more.

Improvements are going on rapidly in Albion, and we have several fine houses which would be an ornament to much older towns than ours.

D. A. Willard, proprietor of the Boone Co. Argus, has sold out to a young man hailing from Washington county, this State, by the name of A. D. Brainard. We hope that prosperity may bless him and his estimable lady, as they have just entered the matrimonial life. More anon. DASH.
